

Barry Rellaford

Leadership Consultant, Speaker, and Author

Topics

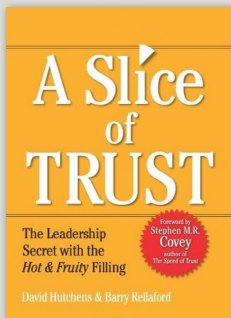

Leading at the Speed of Trust

The 13 Behaviors of High Trust Leaders

The Trust Tax Vs. The Trust Dividend

Author of:

A Slice of Trust
co-authored with David Hutches

A globally sought-after leadership development expert, Barry Rellaford has a gift for presenting complex content in an understandable, memorable, and actionable manner.

Barry Rellaford is uniquely qualified to consult because of his experience as a business practitioner. His extensive background in personal and leadership development as a coach, facilitator, and leader with multiple organizations, gives Barry the informed, practical experience that sets him apart as a Speed of Trust Practice consultant.

Barry led FranklinCovey's Learning Expedition Center, the company's internal corporate university focused on the development of FranklinCovey salespeople and consultants. He also served as the Vice President of Organizational Development for Metatec Corporation and as a performance consultant at CompuServe, Inc.

Barry brings an uncommon combination of insight, passion, practicality, and fun to learning. He regularly speaks and trains internationally, having led programs in 15 countries with participants representing over 50 different nations. His audiences have included Procter & Gamble, Microsoft Corporation, Johnson & Johnson, Honeywell, Coinstar, Toyota, Foodmakers, Intel, Nike, University of Texas Medical Branch, and the U.S. Army.

Working closely with Stephen M. R. Covey, Barry had a hand in developing the Leading at the Speed of Trust training program, the organizational assessment, and the Speed of Trust™ individual assessment.

Accomplishments

- B.A., Organizational Communication, BYU's Marriott School of Management
- M.A., Labor and Human Resources, Ohio State University
- Leader, FranklinCovey's Learning Expedition Center
- Former VP, Organizational Development, Metatec Corporation

To schedule Barry Rellaford
Call 1-888-554-1776