

Scott Thele

Execution Consultant and Speaker

Topics

Execution

Scott Thele shares new insights with clients on the challenges executives face in execution, as well as practical tools and techniques to successfully overcome those challenges.

As an execution leader with FranklinCovey, Scott Thele is responsible for leading the Execution Practice and working with clients in FranklinCovey's central region. Scott originally joined the Covey Leadership Center (now FranklinCovey) in 1993 to build the public program seminar business. He served in various managerial and leadership roles until becoming the Managing Director of the Great Lakes Region, headquartered in Columbus, Ohio. Later Scott became a senior consultant working with the 4 Disciplines and customized content for the program.

Scott left FranklinCovey in 2004 to become the full-time Senior Vice President for Data Warehouse, a client company in South Florida, where he helped with strategy implementation. He later joined Signature Consultants, where he served in various executive capacities and built organizational development tools and learning methodologies. Scott is presently Senior Consultant for Falling Leaf Training and Development.

Prior to joining FranklinCovey, Scott owned and operated a computer manufacturing and distribution business, and his experience there fueled the entrepreneurial spirit that drives his unique approach. He has served on the boards of several small- to mid-sized organizations.
